Vol. 26

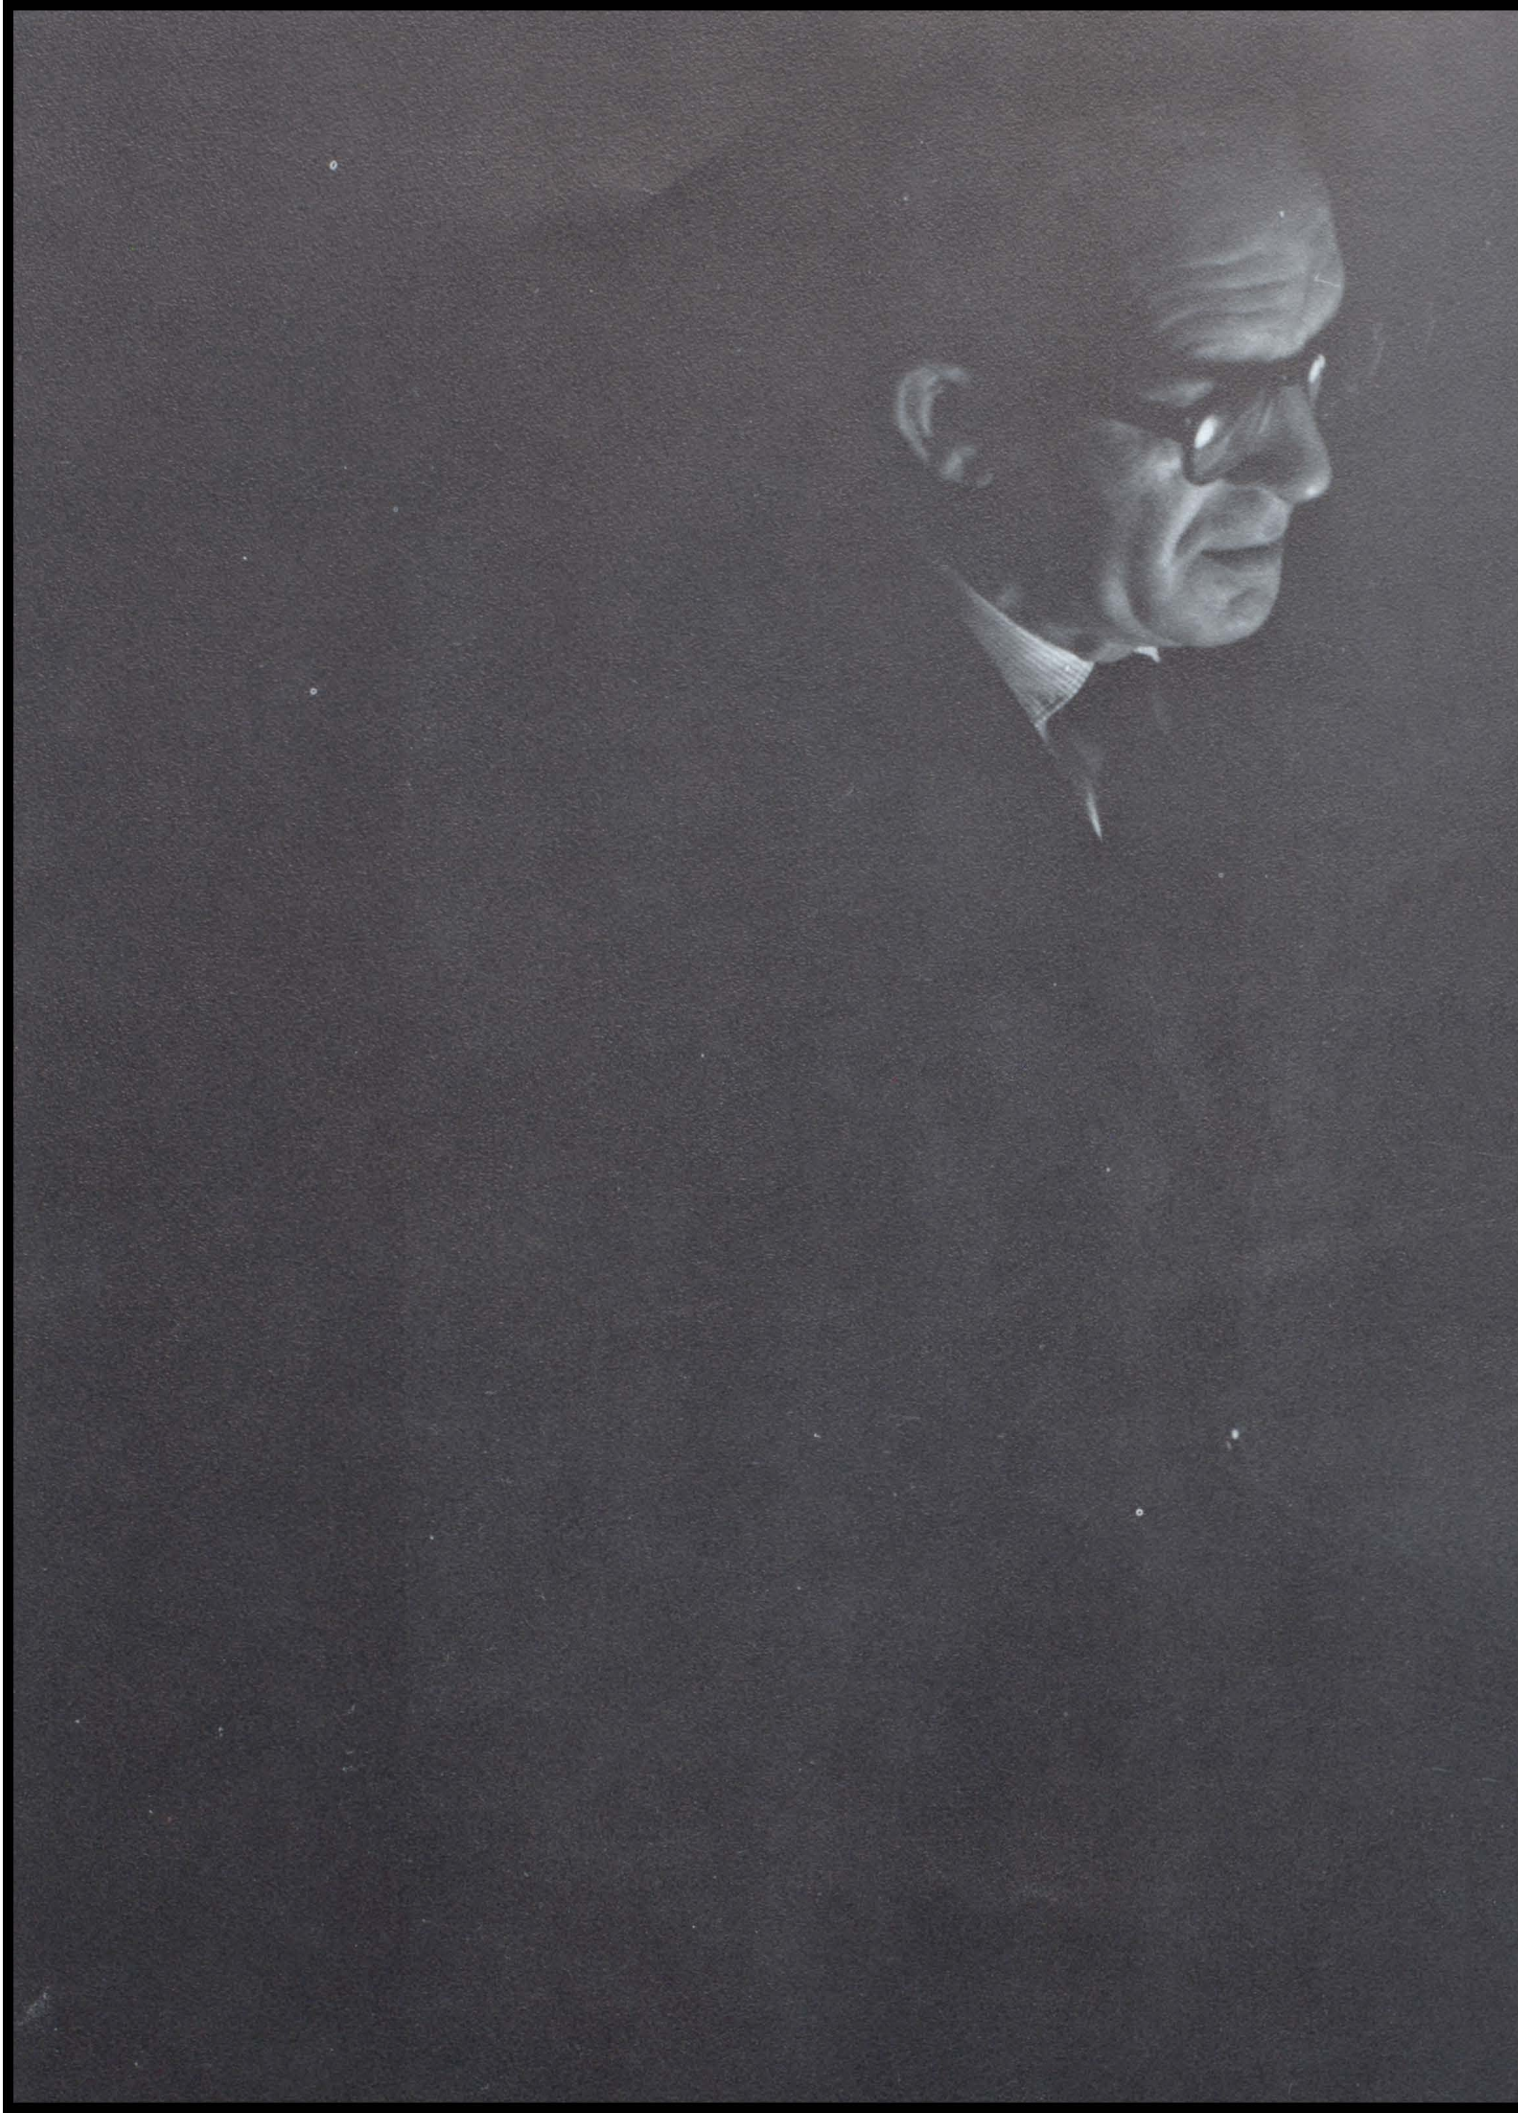

This century has shrunk the world. One hundred years ago there were no airplanes, no automobiles, no trans-oceanic cables, no radios, no telephones. Communication was slow and inefficient. Today letters can reach Japan in a few days. In a few hours we can be in any country in the world. In a few minutes we can talk to friends across the continent or across the ocean. However, we still quarrel with our world neighbors because of language or cultural differences. We still war over trivial misconceptions.

The important thing in life perhaps then is not merely to give wings to our words and to our feet, but to educate our hearts. Through education we may someday be able to draw all nations of the world together into a peaceful unity. Through education the hope of universal understanding may be achieved. Then we will be able to say, "It's a small world isn't it?"

"Small world, isn't it?" — we sing the phrase. We approve it. We not only approve, but we prove it with the advances in communication and transportation. Yet we disprove our theme "Small world, isn't it?" by exaggerating petty differences. What matter that we talk to each other around the world in hours, if we fail to understand each other's point of view.

Administration Aids Understanding

Dr. Scott Street, Roosevelt principal, is intensely interested in research and its implications for education. Ever on the move, he brings theory and practice to his administrative desk, and adheres to a progressive viewpoint.

Mrs. Florence Crouch, counselor, helps each individual to assess his own potentialities. In administering tests and keeping records she keeps an open mind and ear to help the student plan his future.

Mrs. Geraldine Kress, school nurse, has charge of the "health clinic" at Roosevelt. It is her duty to check the health of each returning absentee. This year she has been assisting in one of the school's several research projects.

Mrs. Janet Huff, Roosevelt's school secretary, has to face up to a long list of duties. She adjusts readily to a heavy work load and smiles through it all.

Miss Alice Beal, Roosevelt's school librarian, has purchased much new material to keep the students up to date in the world of books. She has been busily working on a picture and current-events file to be used in research. Miss Beal also sponsors the Library Club and its various activities.

Whenever you hear the click-clack of typewriter keys, you can be sure Miss Vera North is not far off. She not only teaches typing but all the business courses offered at Roosevelt.

Students

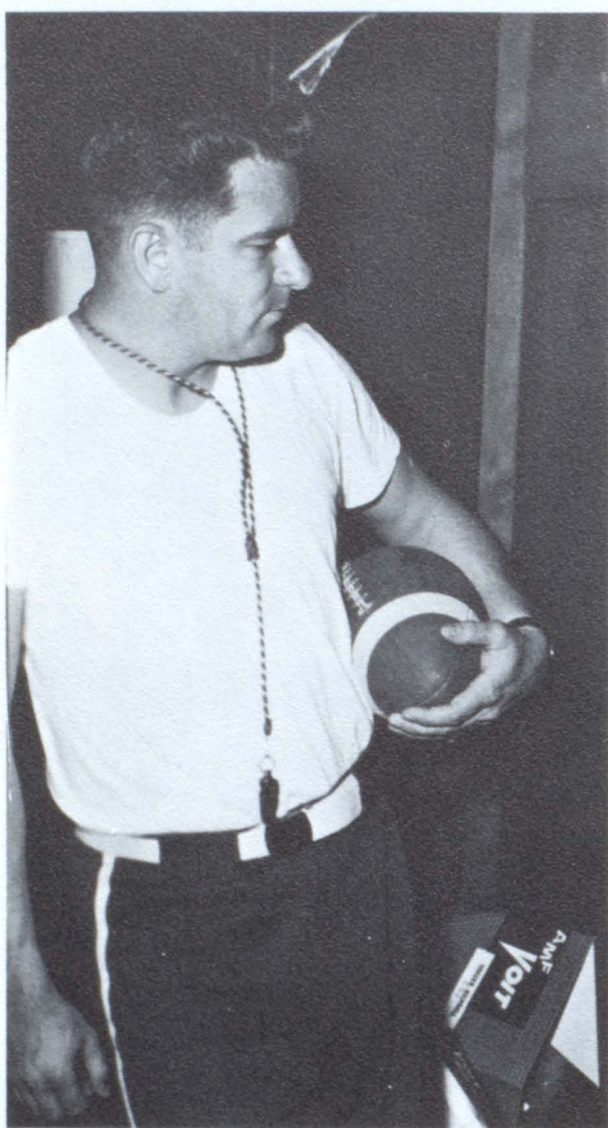

Mr. Russell Brumbaugh, head of the Driver's Education Department at Eastern Michigan University, shares his knowledge and skill with the students at Roosevelt. He helps his students to become good and safe drivers on our highways.

Fitness:

An Important Factor

In Our Lives

Mr. Ronald Saunders has taken on an added responsibility this year. Besides assisting Coach Dornbos in the physical education department, he is still scheduled for eighth grade mathematics.

Coach Bud Dornbos came to Roosevelt in the fall of '63. He was no stranger to the high school crowd for he had lived in the area and had managed the Chippewa Club. He is particularly interested in making Roosevelt's athletic program a leader for the state. He serves on many school committees.

Miss Mary Drake is sponsor of the Girls' Swimming Club. Between swim practices and the annual swim show, she teaches girls' physical education at various levels and sponsors intramural sports.

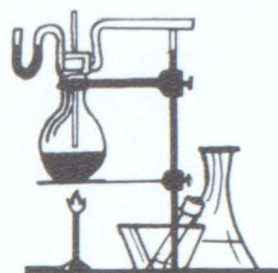

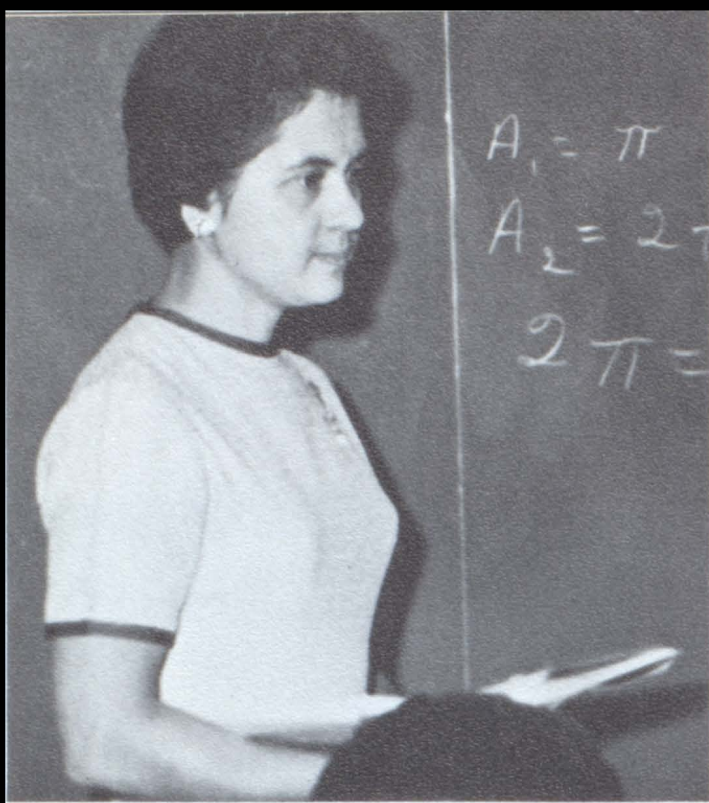

Mr. Emile Gosseaux rates with the best of science teachers. He makes what is difficult comprehensible and applicable and, above all, interesting. He teaches science as a facet of this age of scientific inquiry and thought. His goal is to produce thinkers and do-ers.

Sciences Encourage

Youthful Minds

The biology and general science teacher at RHS is Mr. Robert Wall. His classes take field trips and plan special projects throughout the year. He is sponsor of the Biology Club which schedules each year a series of fine lectures.

Miss Joanne Rankin has added a new Senior Math Class to her schedule of geometry and algebra. She helps each student become a precise thinker by showing him how to organize his thoughts more efficiently.

Mr. Jerry Wyatt has taken over the task of teaching ninth grade Social Studies, Core, and ninth grade English. He is a 1964-65 addition to Roosevelt's Social Studies Department. He is deeply concerned that his students improve their writing skills.

Mathematics, Social Studies Broaden World Horizons

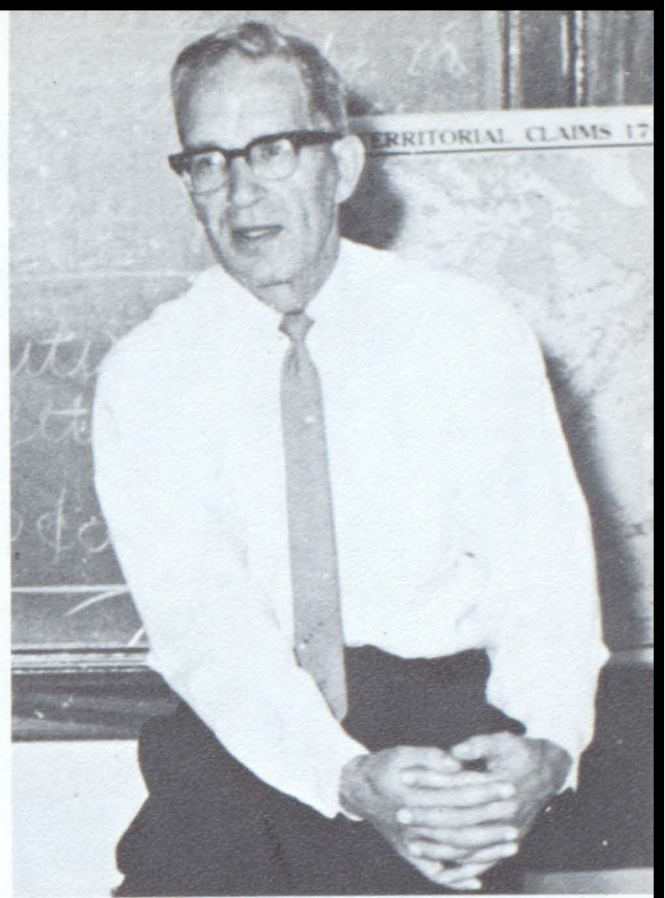

Mr. Francis Welper, besides carrying a regular load of math classes, is in charge of the audio-visual equipment at Roosevelt. He is interested in student groups and sponsors the Pep Club. He is a kind of foster parent for students weighed down with personal problems.

Mr. Gerald Sharp is an eager Core and Math teacher. He has two loves — teaching and architectural design. He will, when given the opportunity, give a full course in the philosophy which moves steel, stone, wood or brick into the perfect school, theatre, temple, or shrine.

Mr. Thomas Shook has driven from Flint each day this year to instruct the seventh and eighth grade Core classes. He is replacing Mr. William Waara who is in Somalia. He has a buoyant nature and spreads good cheer in an effortless way.

Mr. Alister MacDonald, known to everyone as Mr. Mac, is noted for his stories of high adventures (usually in Minnesota). Between adventures he teaches U.S. History and Government and also coaches the tennis team. He is highly respected by all his students.

Miss Linda McKinley, the home economics teacher, makes good use of the RHS modern kitchen equipment and sewing facilities. Her classes plan teas and parties throughout the year. She sponsors the busy F.H.A. which has an active project at the Ypsilanti State Hospital. Members of the local F.H.A. group take part in state and regional conferences.

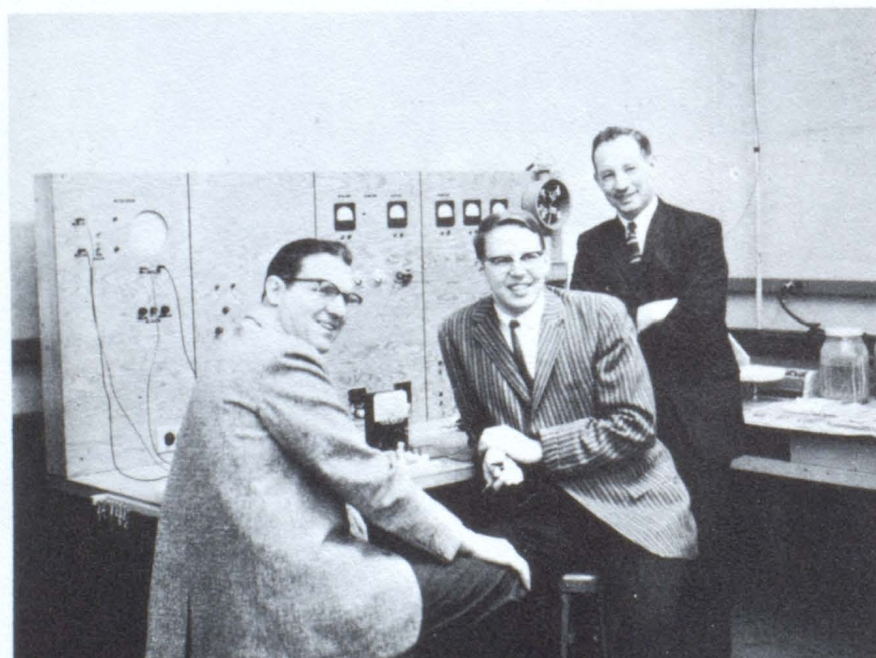

Mr. Thomas Dodd came already well known for his on teenagers. He is the has been promoting AUNT

The Arts:

Culinary

Industrial

Fine Arts

The Industrial Arts Department has been hard at work this year developing a new junior-senior high school curriculum. The graphic arts course, one of the many new and exciting offerings, will be of particular interest to the publication staffs, for it may mean resumption of a printing club to turn out Rough Rider and Quest. Mr. A. Francis teaches Roosevelt students electronics. Mr. G. Jennings has the power mechanics class, while both he and Mr. N. Delventhal teach industrial arts.

from Utica, Michigan, this year. He is lively art classes and creative thoughts enthusiastic sponsor of the F.T.A. He and a Roosevelt art exhibit.

Mrs. Jean Sundquist has the elementary and seventh and eighth grade music classes. She conducts the high school chorus. The production of an operetta, The Lowland Sea, and the acquisition of new uniforms for the girls deserve special billing among the 1965 chorus activities. This year Mrs. Sundquist has been chairman of the State Music Association Humanities Committee.

Dr. Maurice Riley directs the high school band and orchestra. He gives instruction to the beginning instrumentalists at all grade levels. His students take top ratings at district and state festivals.

Miss Jean Fraser of the English faculty has a variety of interests. She loves literature and the theatre. She stimulates her students to read widely and to follow current offerings on stage and screen.

Miss Lucille Langworthy is Roosevelt's French teacher. This year she has added to her busy schedule an advanced French course for third, fourth, and fifth year students who are not presently admitted to Eastern Michigan University classes. She shows a great deal of interest in music, gardening and French drama.

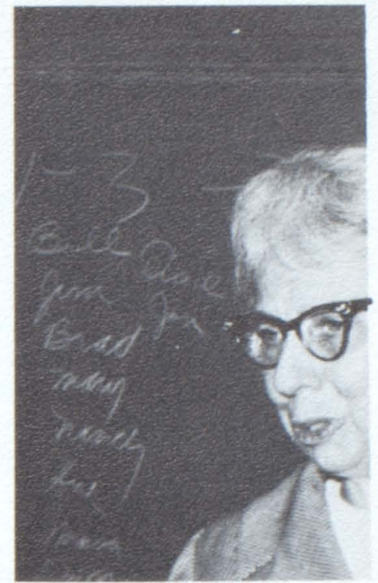

Understanding Languages Shrinks The World

Miss Virginia Cooper, Latin, English, and world history teacher, manages to find time to sponsor the National Honor Society at Roosevelt. She is known for her Saturday morning make-up sessions and her briefcase. She demonstrates a vast enthusiasm for precise word usage.

Miss McAndless reviews term papers with student teachers in a critic meeting.

"Mickey"

Miss Thelma McAndless, English chairman and director of publications, returned from a round the world trip this fall with new ideas for making her classes truly international. She sponsors the Rough Rider, Echo, and Quest and encourages students to participate in the school dramatics productions and speech contests. In addition to her many activities at Roosevelt she plays an active role in state and national professional organizations.

Students Observe Teachers' Appreciation Day

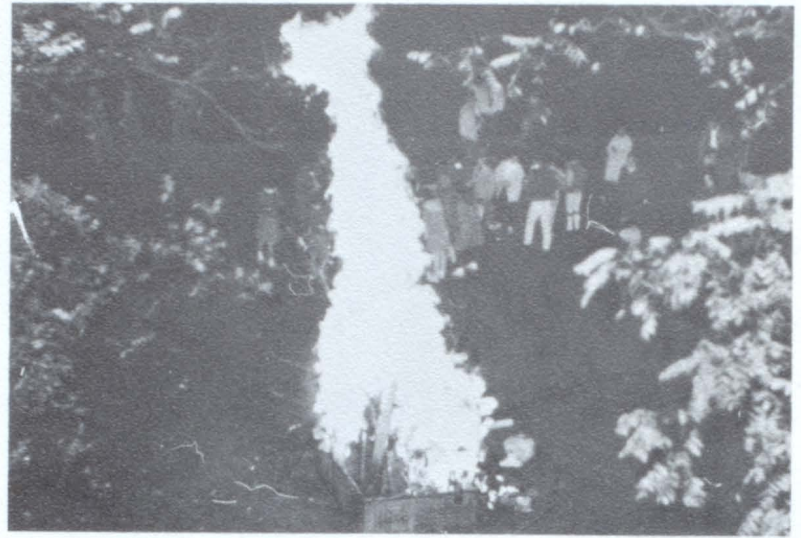

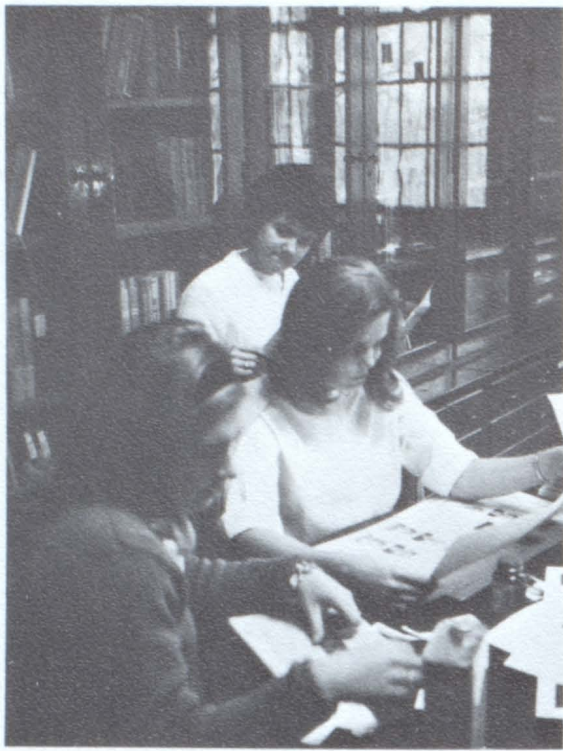

Miss Cooper, Mr. Dornbos, Mr. Mac, and Mrs. Crouch show surprised and pleased smiles as they discover the student council's special Teachers Appreciation Day observance. All the ladies received red roses while everyone received apples in his office mail box on March 10, 1965.

The extra-curricular program enables students to spend time on those areas in which they are specifically interested. It also enables students to participate in several group activities and to learn from their fellow students.

Student Council Initiates Many Reforms

This year's Student Council, under the leadership of Don Porter, president; Brewster Brown, vice president; Maureen Trosko, secretary; and Lorie Otis, treasurer, experienced a highly successful year. Revision of both the handbook and the constitution were among major projects. The annual magazine sale assisted the Council financially, thus enabling it to sponsor buses to away football, basketball, and swimming contests.

Joining forces with the Varsity Club the Council produced the new display case opposite the library.

The area high schools' Student Council Conference, reactivated by the Roosevelt Council, increased better inter-school relationships and proved to be one of the outstanding accomplishments of the 1964-65 council.

The executive board discusses the rewriting of the new constitution. Under the direction of Brewster Brown, this was one of the Council's biggest projects.

Staff Works Round Clock

For National Rating

Under the efficient leadership and direction of Barbara Borusch, Joyce Butcko, and Brewster Brown, the Echo was published. Seniors working on the publication found it both challenging and rewarding. Working with sponsor Miss Thelma McAndless, the staff encountered many new and unexpected situations. Much of the bustling activity witnessed throughout the year at the northern end of the hall was due to the frenzy of the staff in producing an outstanding yearbook. The staff hopes it has published a yearbook which will remind its readers of most of the major events at RHS during 1964-'65.

The Rough Rider staff has once again set the pace of successfully producing a tri-weekly newspaper. Mary Zickgraf, the competent editor, and her staff have spent many hours in diligently writing, copy-editing, organizing, photographing, proof-reading, in order to bring to the student at RHS a current picture of the efforts and endeavors of the people of our school.

SUCH IS YOUTH
by Betsy Foster

Steadily he stands up for what he believes,
Wrong or right he wavers not.
Foolishly he leaps to defend his views,
Talking on things he has not seen, felt, or heard.

Age shall teach him one day to come
To wait, to have patience, to watch, to learn;
To say only what is necessary and just,
And what experience has taught.

But now there he stands, firm and sure,
Disclaiming, proclaiming, loud and clear...

Varsity Club Members Promote

The Varsity Club is headed by the captain(s) of the sport for the particular season. Members of the club include boys who have earned a varsity letter and have been officially initiated. The Varsity Club's purpose is to promote interscholastic athletics. Football and basketball programs have been a contribution of this year's Varsity Club.

The music and entertainment heard during the half-times of the Roosevelt football games is attained through the hard work of the band, under the direction of Dr. Maurice Riley.

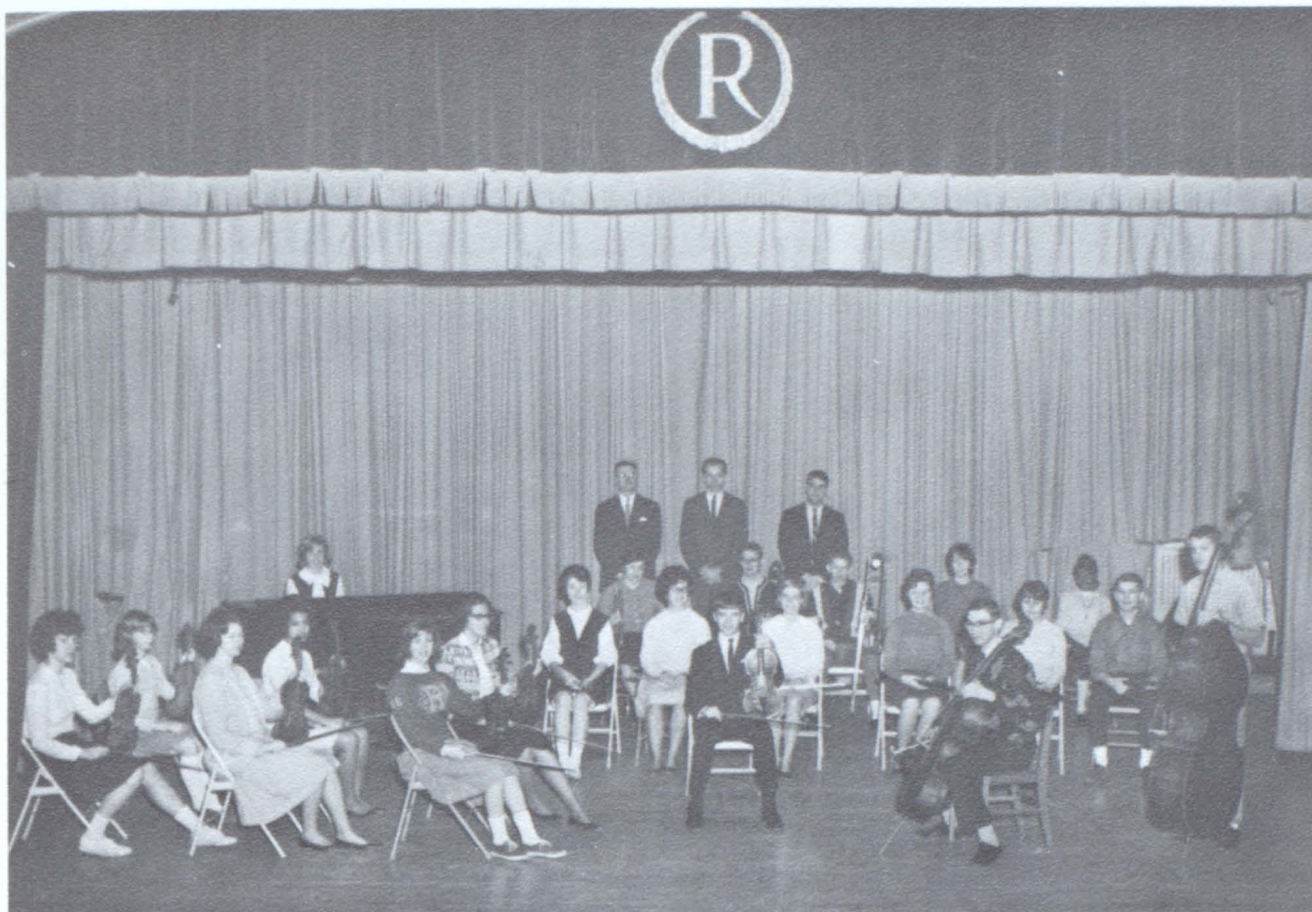

The members also participate in the University of Michigan Band Day and in Eastern Michigan University's Homecoming Parade. The band earns money each year by operating a concession stand during the Solo Ensemble Festival in February.

David Franklin, a senior, has been Roosevelt's Drum Major for the last two years. He has led the band successfully through all of their half-time performances and through many parades.

Let There Be Music

Each year the orchestra provides musical entertainment for the Roosevelt student body. Many of the musicians participate in various other special orchestras around the state. For months, talented members can be heard practicing for the annual Solo Ensemble Festival in February.

Altogether the year's work proves rewarding for the Roosevelt Orchestra.

Roosevelt's Future Homemakers of America live up to the national goal — to further interest in Home Economics.

Throughout this school year the F.H.A. girls have made frequent visits to their ward at the State Hospital. These visits bring joy to patients.

The girls have a concession stand where they sell ice cream each day to sweeten their chapter kitty. This activity helps in sending delegates to state and regional F.H.A. meetings and also helps to pay for their various good-will projects.

Among the yearly activities of the F.H.A. is the Christmas party for underprivileged children of the community. This year the Swim Club and the F.H.A. combined their efforts for a fun afternoon of swimming with the party afterwards.

Sinkopators Present

Inter-Planetary Adventure

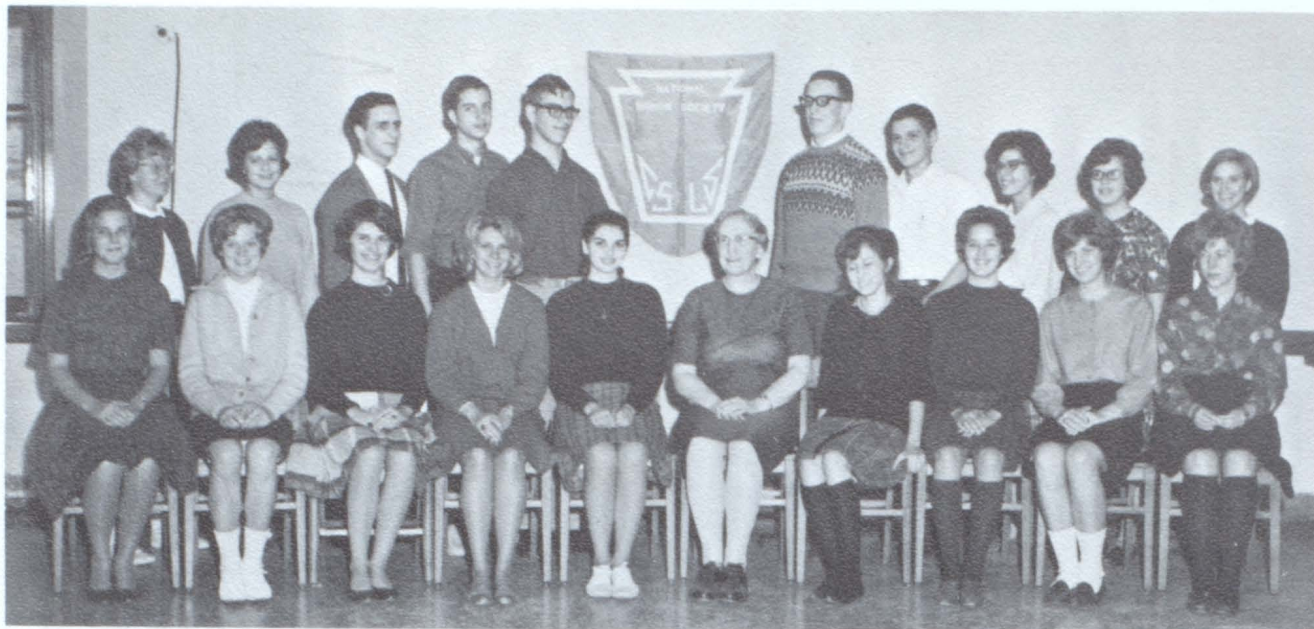

Sinkopators, through hard work and determination, put on the 1965 swim show, "An Interplanetary Adventure". It turned out to be a great success.

Yumi Shitoto, who was here for just the year, became a special member of the swim club.

The year 1964-65 ended with the tryouts for new members, and the annual initiation for these polywogs.

Debbi Davis and Amy Sanzi take a minute off from their busy practice for the swim show.

These seniors were initiated into the National Honor Society at a candle-light ceremony last June. According to the revised constitution, students attaining at least a B average and fulfilling the requirements of character, scholarship, leadership, and service were chosen to be members of the organization.

Roosevelt's chapter of the National Honor Society has been in operation since 1927. This year's members are now reviewing the NHS files with an eye to discovering the current activities of Roosevelt's alumni members.

Students Receive Recognition

This year's candidate for the state DAR award is Maureen Trosko. Maureen won the honor by the vote of her classmates and the faculty.

Al Burrell, Jim Sukach as an alternate, and Don Porter were elected by their class to represent Roosevelt at the 1964 annual Roosevelt Boys' State. Boys' State is held on the Michigan State campus and covers a period of eight days. Representatives from schools throughout the state form, and administer a mock government. Their stay is climaxed by a visit to the Capitol and an address by the Governor. This contact with a mythical government gives the representatives first hand knowledge of the duties and responsibilities of the various state offices.

Students Gain Experience In Library Club, F. T. A.

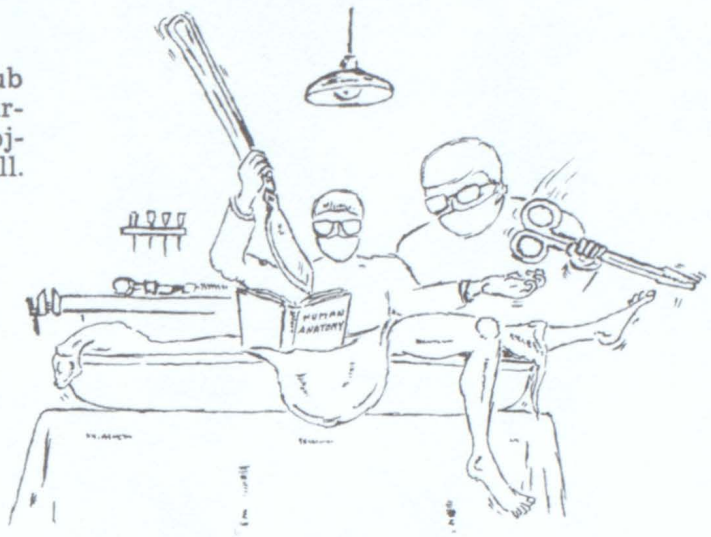

The members of the Library Club keep themselves busy. Under the guidance of Miss Alice Beal, they study library policies. They arrange bulletin boards and seasonal decorations. Many of the members attend regional and state conferences. This year Jon Obermeyer was president of the State Library Association, SLAAM.

Members of the Leonard Menzi Future Teachers Chapter gain some first-hand knowledge about teaching. They help in the elementary division of Roosevelt and also at Rackham School. They participate in area workshops and state conferences. There are currently fifteen names on the roster.

The Biology Club has been an active club at Roosevelt. Each year the members participate in field trips and sponsor other projects under the leadership of Mr. Robert Wall.

Plays

Seniors have a flair for the dramatic. The skeptics said it couldn't be done, but in their Junior year they did it: The Importance of Being Earnest. They also drew rave notices with The Nature of a Gift. Practically every class member gave his all to these productions.

Dances

The class of '65 has gained quite a reputation for outstanding dances. Camelot, May 1964, received many a compliment. Loge de Noel, the 1964 Yuletide Dance, made the party-comers feel as if they were really in a skiing lodge at Christmas time. Atmosphere was established by a timbered roof of brown crepe paper and a thirteen-foot decorated Christmas tree.

1970 will be red-letter year for the enthusiastic new seventh graders. Bubbling and giggling, they threw themselves wholeheartedly into the many school activities available to them. They took pride in scholastic achievements, and they showed the appropriate partisanship for RHS athletes. The ambitious class has added much to the overall life of Roosevelt. Needless to say, their sponsor, Miss Linda McKinley and Mr. Jerry Wyatt, boast about their charges.

The eighth grade under the supervision of Mr. Jerry Sharp and Mr. Thomas Shook has been active. Throughout the year they have attended athletic events and spirited the teams on to victory. The eighth graders dominated intramural sports and sponsord fun nights. Before Christmas the pupils earned enough money to provide food and presents for a family which otherwise might have gone Christmasless. Since Christmas the class has been having cupcake sales to earn enough money for a camping trip scheduled in May.

Miss Thelma McAndless

SENIOR YEAR — for some, the end of an era; for others, the beginning of adult life.

Just four years ago this class of '65 entered Roosevelt.

This was the YEAR. The upper classmen felt compelled to let the 65-ers know that they were inferior. Through many valiant struggles, the "little we's" finally achieved entrance into high society. Following the freshman initiation we felt elevated. We were insiders.

In our sophomore year, we nominated four people for Student Council offices. Sue Ulrich and Jim Sukach WON!

The next year we did even better and captured all of the Student Council offices — Porter, Brown, Trosko and Otis. We saluted with the V for victory.

Besides heading up student government, we took honors in scholarship, excelled in athletics, supported and led school clubs, gave outstanding dances, and cheered Miss McAndless' heart with our achievements in speech, dramatics, and writing and were absolutely the greatest thing that ever happened to Roosevelt!

The senior year brought the complete blossoming of the class of '65. Minds have now reached a refinement of unequalled measure. Our potentials have been sharpened by the challenge of leadership. We have now come to the time in our lives when we must expand. We shall go out and meet the world. Good-bye Roosevelt. Thank you for four rewarding years.

Riders Battle In New Lakeland C League

Starting out its second year under the critical eye of Coach Bud Dornbos and Assistant Coach Ron Saunders, the football team aimed at gaining its first victory. With the leadership of Captain Al Burrell, the Roosevelt eleven attained that goal by defeating Grass Lake 26 to 12 before an enthusiastic Homecoming crowd. For their first season in the newly formed Lakeland C League, the Rough Riders, sparked by quarterback, Fred Houck, and backs, Andy Ylisto and Captain Al Burrell, though posting only a one win and seven loss record, gave their opponents a tough fight all the way.

Captain Al Burrell along with Coach Bud Dornbos (r) and Assistant Coach, Ron Saunders (l), take time out from their daily practice.

Coached by Larry Wasen, the junior varsity football team played more games this year than ever before. Their record, 1-3-1, is misleading. The majority of their opponents were class B and had larger teams in size and number. The Little Riders always fought hard and there are some encouraging prospects for future varsity teams.

Cagers Start Season

In New League

Roosevelt started out well this year by defeating the Alumni. Although always playing hard, they lost many close games. They ended up tied for the cellar position after splitting two games with Whitmore Lake. However, they were not always in the losing bracket. They defeated Pinckney's Pirates twice.

The Riders picked up momentum for the district tournaments led by Gary Guider (most valuable player, and next year's captain) who had 23 points. They played a tremendous game defeating the highly favored Wayne St. Mary team. However, Roosevelt was not the only team keyed up for the tournaments. They lost their second tournament game to Ann Arbor St. Thomas. Considering that the starting five almost always consisted of four juniors and only one senior, they have great hopes for next year's team.

J. V. Riders Play With Action

The junior varsity basketball team outdid the varsity by one game of conference play. With the coaching of Larry Wasen and Steve Denmor, they defeated Pinckney twice, Whitmore Lake and Grass Lake once each. They showed improvement throughout the year and there are many good prospects for next year's varsity team.

Swimmers Splash To New Records

The swimming team had one of its biggest swim schedules in the history of the school, fourteen meets, from which the team was able to come up with a 9 win 5 loss record. After swimming against class A and B schools during the regular season the Rough Riders entered the Class B State Meet at Ann Arbor and swam against some schools that were Class A last year but were back in the Class B ranks because of the new classification. The Riders were able to come home with a seventh out of twenty-seven schools and with a point total of 54.

The swim team left behind not only a trail of water and dirty towels, but placed six new varsity records on the board and set several individual marks. Leading the way of the record breakers was Captain Dennis Betts who set records in the 200 yd. Individual Medley with a 2:22.0, the 60 yd. Individual Medley with a 1:47.1, and the 100 yd. Breaststroke with a 1:08.4. Don Porter set a fourth mark in the 60 yd. Freestyle with a 29.9 timing. Dennis Betts and Don Porter teamed up with Brewster Brown and John Johnson to set a fifth mark in the 160 yd. Medley Relay with a 1:26.3 and Betts and Porter also teamed with Bill Burke and Mike Kennedy to set the final mark in the 200 yd. Freestyle Relay with a time of 1:37.5.

Thinclads Picture Successful Season

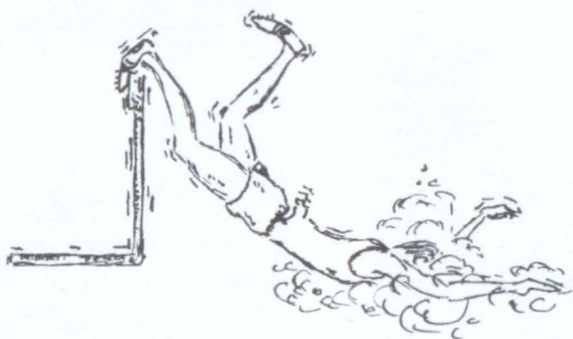

This year's track team will try its luck in the newly formed Lakeland C League. With Coach Bud Dornbos and Co-captains Don Porter and John Capps at the lead, the Rough Riders, with only a few returning lettermen but an enormous number of turnouts this year, hope to place high in the League. Not only do they hope to take the League, but they also figure to do well at regionals and maybe place one or two guys for the State Meet. Along with the hope of a successful season a few of the trackmen are eyeing the record board with the hope of having their names placed there.

Sluggers Rebuild Team Join New League

Roosevelt wound up its 1964 baseball season with an 8-4 record as they fought to second place in the Washtenaw Conference. Gene Hall was voted "Most Valuable Player" and his brother John Hall was elected to serve as this year's captain.

The returning lettermen are sophomore Steve Maggio and juniors John Hall (Capt.), John VanBlack, Fred Houck, and Bill Wales.

Despite the fact that there are no seniors this year, the baseball team feels they will have a good year, this year and in the future, in their new Class C conference.

Capt. Kip Swihart
and Coach Mr. MacDonald

Under the supervision of Coach Alister MacDonald and the leadership of Captain Kip Swihart, the returning lettermen, Jerry Cooch, Mike Kennedy, Don Ferrer, and Terry Balazs, hope to add two more tennis trophies to the third floor showcase before the season is concluded — namely the Regional and State Champions trophies.

The Roosevelt golf team began their second season of competition March 15. The team, despite the loss of four members last year, is hoping for a successful season.

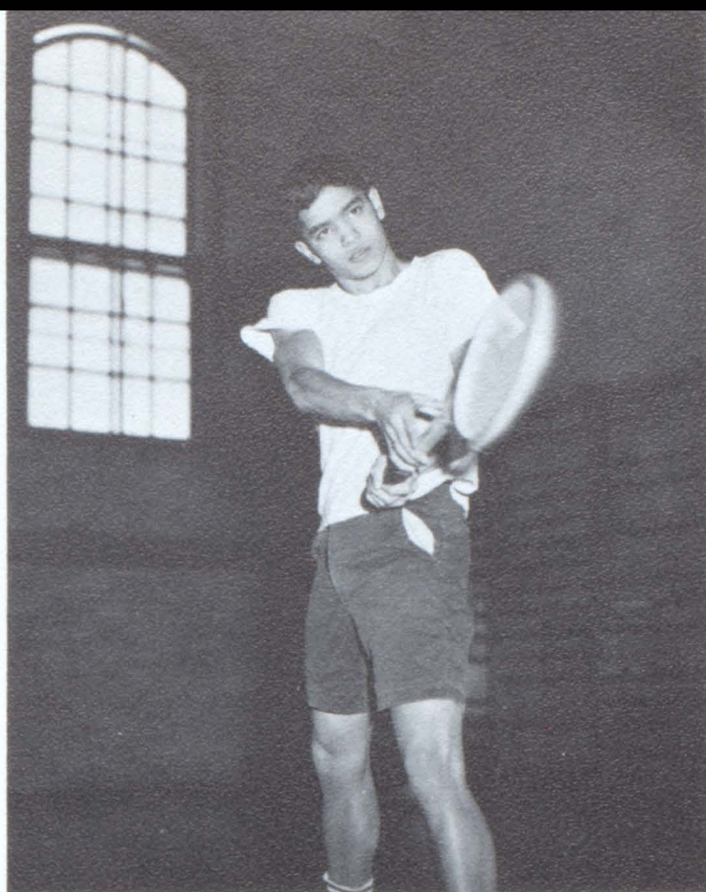

In addition to the experience, the team has enlarged its coaching staff from one to three.

Build Fitness

Adding something new to this year's physical fitness program the Physical Education Department started an Intramural Sports Program which included such activities as football, basketball, swimming, table tennis, volley ball, badminton, tennis and baseball. Each homeroom organized two teams, one of boys and one of girls which compete against other homerooms. The Intramural sports are divided into a junior division consisting of seventh, eighth, and ninth grades and a senior division of tenth, eleventh, and twelfth. At the end of the school year the homeroom winner of each sport, both in the junior boys and girls and the senior boys and girls, will have their names printed on a trophy.

Wendy Ward is a relatively new idea with Montgomery Wards. It is a charm course designed for the teen-age girls between 12½ and 19. The girls who enroll in this course for $7.50 receive a charm book, a beauty-care kit and 5 half hour class sessions which teach the girls poise, posture, cosmetics, hair styling, fashion coordinating, modeling and dating tips. Graduation is really a big time for these girls because at that time they put on a fashion show for the public and get to show all the feminine fineries they learned. They also receive a certificate of graduation at that time. In the Ypsi-Ann Arbor area, this charm course has enjoyed tremendous growth over the past few years. And believe me, these young girls really enjoy it.

"Take away my ham, take away my eggs, even my chili, but leave my newspaper."

Will Rogers

Will Rogers' statement has even more significance today in a world where many people would willingly trade a loaf of bread for the truths in a free press.

So value what you have and use it regularly. You are part of a privileged few.

Congratulations to the Class of 1965
